One summer morning, Santa received a letter unlike any other.

"I know you don't send me Christmas gifts because I'm Muslim, but we have our own holiday—Eid! My friends and I have prepared a big box of gifts to share happiness with more children. Could you help us deliver them?"

Intrigued, Santa set off on a journey to discover a different kind of festive joy—one that felt both new and familiar.

A heartwarming tale of kindness, shared traditions, and the magic of giving.
